MODERN ARTISTS
LOVERS

Chair design is a multidisciplinary field that involves creating functional and aesthetically pleasing pieces of furniture. It encompasses a range of styles, materials, and techniques, from traditional woodworking to modern industrial design. Furniture designers often work closely with manufacturers, architects, interior designers, and clients to create pieces that meet specific needs and preferences.

Designers consider the visual appeal of their creations, incorporating elements such as form, proportion, color, and texture to achieve a desired look. Aesthetic choices may be influenced by cultural trends, historical styles, or personal artistic expression.

MODERNIST COLLECTION

Good chair design takes human factors into account, ensuring that the dimensions, angles, and proportions of the piece are optimized for comfort and usability. Ergonomic considerations are particularly important for items like chairs and desks, which people interact with for extended periods.
